Introduction: On 13th September, Oriental College of Education and Research (OCER, Andheri) celebrated Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi, which was organized by the Student Council from 2:30 PM to 3:30 PM.

Objectives:

- Understand the significance of Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi
- Understand how Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi is celebrated in India

Program Highlights:

S.Y.B.Ed. students of Oriental College of Education and Research celebrated Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi, which marks the birth anniversary of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him). It is a time to reflect on his teachings of peace, compassion, and kindness. The assembly commenced with the Naat Sharif (Gali Gali Saj Gai, Jashne Amaad e Rasool), which was sung by Shifa, Adila, and Jessina. Next, Adila, Shifa, and Aliza recited the Salaam with Dua (Ya Nabi Salaam Alayka). Aliza shared the significance of Eid-e-Milad Un Nabi. A video on the life of Prophet Muhammad was played, and Faiza shared the teachings of Prophet Muhammad. Afsana and Anam recited a poem titled Likha hai ek zaifa thi. Jessina presented a speech on Prophet Muhammad. Anisha gave the vote of thanks. All of the faculty members shared their thoughts.

Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi: Significance and Community Celebration

Significance:

This day is significant for Muslims as it marks the birth of the last prophet of Islam, who is revered for bringing the message of peace and guidance to humanity. Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi reminds communities of moral values, empathy, and harmony among people.

Community celebration: The life and teachings of Prophet Muhammad are presented. Muslims sing Naat (devotional songs) and speak about the importance of brotherhood. The message of peace, equality, and helping the poor are strongly emphasized.

Conclusion: The Eid-e-Milad-Un-Nabi celebration conducted at Oriental College of Education and Research (Andheri) marks the birth anniversary of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), which is a time to reflect on his teachings of peace, compassion, and kindness.
