Report on One-Day Workshop on Vigilance Awareness

Organized by: Oriental College of Education and Research (OCER)

Date: 27th September 2025

Venue: Lecture Hall 401, OES Building

Time: 10:00 a.m. onwards

Introduction

A One-Day Workshop on Vigilance Awareness was organized by the Oriental College of Education and Research (OCER) on 27th September 2025 at Lecture Hall 401, OES Building. The programme was conducted by IQAC Cell under National Priority Program in alignment with the nationwide observance of Vigilance Awareness initiatives led by the Central Vigilance Commission (CVC). The workshop aimed to spread awareness about the importance of integrity, transparency, and accountability in personal and professional life.

Objectives of the Workshop

1. To sensitize participants about the significance of vigilance in eradicating corruption.
2. To promote ethical values and integrity in academic and professional practices.
3. To create awareness about the role of citizens and institutions in ensuring good governance.
4. To administer and reinforce the Integrity Pledge among all stakeholders.

Programme Highlights

- Welcome Address: The workshop began with a warm welcome by Dr. Priyanka Pandey I/C the Principal of OCER, highlighting the objectives of the session and the significance of Vigilance Awareness Week.
- Introductory Session: An engaging presentation was conducted to explain the importance of vigilance in personal and professional life, linking it to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's vision of integrity, accountability, and nation-building.
- Integrity Pledge Ceremony: All participants took the Integrity Pledge, reinforcing their commitment to honesty, transparency, and ethical conduct in daily activities.
- Keynote Session: A thought-provoking keynote was delivered on the theme of vigilance and ethical responsibility. Real-life examples, case studies of ethical dilemmas, and strategies for corruption-free practices were shared to create practical awareness.

- Interactive Group Activities:
  - Scenario-Based Group Discussion: Participants were divided into small groups to discuss real-life ethical scenarios and propose solutions.
  - Integrity Quiz: A short quiz with thought-provoking questions encouraged participants to reflect on the importance of vigilance in everyday life.
  - Role-Play Exercises: Volunteers enacted situations involving ethical decision-making, stimulating discussion and learning.
- Open Forum & Reflection: Students and faculty shared their perspectives on promoting vigilance in personal, academic, and professional spheres. Insights and suggestions were noted for future initiatives.
- Closing Remarks: The Principal concluded the workshop by emphasizing the ongoing responsibility of students and staff to uphold integrity and ethical behavior, leaving participants motivated to apply the principles learned.

Outcome

The workshop successfully instilled awareness among participants regarding the importance of vigilance and integrity. Faculty and students pledged to uphold transparency, accountability, and ethical values in their personal and professional spheres.

Conclusion

The One-Day Workshop on Vigilance Awareness organized by OCER proved to be an enriching experience. It reinforced the message that collective responsibility and conscious efforts can ensure a corruption-free and ethical society.
